

A new age for older workers

What are the challenges of working longer?
How do we create age-friendly workplaces?

The South Australian Council of Social Service (SACOSS) and Council of the Ageing (COTA) are hosting this important community event.

Juanita Walker CEO of Whyalla Aged Care will share their initiatives to embrace older workers, as well as the benefits this has brought to the organisation.

Over lunch there will be the opportunity to choose between two workshops. Managers and HR folk can look at policies and practices to support positive ageing, and workers can look at areas to help plan for the future.

When: Wed July 27th, 11am - 2pm

Where: Field Street Hall
Cnr Field Street and Beerworth Avenue
Whyalla Playford SA 5600

RSVPs: Essential to SACOSS@sacoss.org.au or 8305 4222.

Lunch will be provided.

Professor Barbara Pocock, Emeritus Professor at the University of SA and former director of the Centre for Work/Life, will talk about her research in this area and help uncover strategies to help both workers and their employers plan for the future.

Government of South Australia
SA Health

This forum was funded by a grant from the Office for the Ageing